

Happy New Year you wonderful people! Pick up whatever you're drinking so I can offer this toast...

Here's wishing you the chance to be there for the ones you love
Wishing you the thrill of a soulful glance
Wishing you a lesson in every sour event
And gratitude in every lovely, lonely sunset

Here's wishing you accept the truth in another's compliment
Wishing you learn to love yourself like no other
Wishing you the feeling of accomplishment
Of being a good parent or friend

Here's wishing you new adventures to broaden stale horizons
Wishing you a daring dream to follow
Wishing you a feeling of purpose
You were born to have one

Here's wishing you the courage to make a change - knowing it's for the better
Wishing you acknowledge your own wonderful gifts
Wishing you the confidence that all is as it should be
Until you decide differently

Here's wishing you faith there is someone ready to be there for you
Wishing you find contentment for longer stretches of time
Wishing you the joy in the journey
Choosing to love without fear

Here's wishing you the spiritual cleanse of a good cry
Wishing you laughter mixed with tears
Wishing you heartfelt, long hugs every day
And the pleasure of serving others

Here's wishing you the gift of receiving
Wishing you the peace in forgiving
Wishing you the wondrous joy
Of simply being YOU
